The 2011 CEAP National Convention which shall focus on the theme of "Peace" will be on 23- 25 September 2011 in Davao City. Initial plans have been drawn with the help of advocates and friends under the leadership of the Programs and Scholarship Committee Chairperson, Fr. Antonio F. Moreno, SJ, CEAP Vice-President.

- Update on the CEAP By-Laws

The CEAP National Board in its meeting last 15 December 2010 threshed out all the pending issues pertinent to the CEAP By-laws. As it was given the mandate to finalize all the amendments to the By-laws during the General Assembly last 23 September 2010 following the extensive regional consultation meetings conducted in the last two years, the Board shall within the month send a copy of the By-laws to all the school heads/representatives.

The amended CEAP By-laws is a milestone achievement of the association as it is a product of consultation and consensus-building that clarified the operating principles and regionalization initiatives of CEAP. More than the document as a final product, it is the process of revisiting and studying the By-laws which has to be valued by the association as it continues to write its history as the largest educational association in the country fulfilling the teaching function of the Catholic Church.

- National Commissions and Committees of CEAP Organized

In the Organizational Meeting last 23 September 2010 of the newly-elected CEAP National Board, the Commissions and Committees were constituted to allow for the continuity of plans and programs of these national bodies. Attachment B lists the composition of these commissions and committees. Proposals, suggestions and recommendations may be forwarded to these bodies through the National Secretariat. The mandate and composition of these bodies have been clarified in the amended CEAP By-laws and it is expected that all the regional units of CEAP will constitute their regional commissions and committees. Many of these national bodies have done significant work during the months after the National Convention, details of which may be found in the CEAP Bulletin and the CEAP main website (<http://www.ceap.org.ph>). In the same vein, the Regional Units have also tirelessly continued with their work in the regions. Details and news accounts of these programs and activities are found in the CEAP Bulletin and the CEAP main website.

In the said meeting, Fr. Joel E. Tabora was unanimously appointed as Chairperson of the CEAP Advocacy Commission while Msgr. Gerardo O. Santos was unanimously appointed as Chairperson of the CEAP Religious Education Commission.

As part of its Capability-Building initiatives, the CEAP Basic Education Commission under the leadership of its Chairperson, Fr. Jun B. Baria forged a partnership with the Foundation for Upgrading the Standard of Education, Inc. (FUSE, Inc.). FUSE is a duly registered non-government organization which aims to upgrade the standard of education in the country through teacher training on the use of CONSTEC Materials (Continuing Studies via Technology). FUSE and CEAP piloted a five-day content upgrading for teachers of Elementary Science and Health, High School English, High School Mathematics, Physics and Chemistry. This was held last 18 to 22 October 2010 for Regions 1, 2 and CAR at St. Louis School Center, Baguio City. The sessions in the five subject areas were held simultaneously. More than 130 teachers completed the training course. Also, each school was given training materials, handouts and a complete set of CONSTEC VCDS and TSM (Teaching Support Material) in the five areas mentioned. Networking and Linkage-Building

▪ COCOPEA's Regional Consultations on K + 12

After a series of meetings with top officials of the Department of Education, COCOPEA initiated regional consultations among its member-schools and partners on the K + 12 program being proposed by DepEd tapping its recently-constituted Regional COCOPEA Boards of Commissioners. It can be recalled that the thrust of regionalization was a highlight of the 3rd COCOPEA National Congress in February 2010.

Last 26 October 2010, Region 4 had its regional consultation with resource persons led by Dr. Chito B. Salazar (President, Phinma Education Network), Dr. Vincent K. Fabella (President, Jose Rizal University) and Dr. Horacio M. Montefrio (President, International Electronics and Technical Institute School System) discussing the K + 12 Model and its Tri-Level Implications.

COCOPEA NCR Consultation on K + 12 was held last 23-24 November 2010 at the Pearl Hotel, Manila, COCOPEA Luzon A (Regions 1-3, CAR) Consultation was held last 27 November 2010 at the University of Baguio, Baguio City and COCOPEA Visayas Consultation was held last 30 November 2010 at the University of San Carlos, Cebu City.

COCOPEA Mindanao Consultations are scheduled on 21 January 2011 at the Ateneo de Zamboanga, Zamboanga City and on 27 January 2011 at the Misamis University, Ozamiz City.

Members of the CEAP Regional Councils and school heads/presidents/directors are invited to attend these regional consultations. For details, please contact the Advocacy and Special Events Unit of CEAP at (02) 926-5153 or email nixm@ceap.org.ph. The DepEd discussion paper on K + 12 may be downloaded from the ceap website (<http://www.ceap.org.ph>).

The regional consultations are being organized by the COCOPEA Task Force on Basic Education (TFBED). Fr. Jun Baria, Chairperson of the CEAP Basic Education Commission, Sister Irene Torres, RA, School Director of Assumption Antipolo and Rhodora Angela F. Ferrer, CEAP Executive Director represent CEAP in the TFBEd. The TFBEd is planning a COCOPEA National Basic Education Summit in February 2011.

- COCOPEA's Roundtable Discussions/Dialogues with national education officials

Following the appointments of key education officials of the Aquino Administration, COCOPEA initiated roundtable discussions/dialogues with DepEd's Bro. Armin A. Luistro, FSC, CHed's Dr. Patricia B. Licuanan, TESDA's Joel Villanueva and PRC officials. These roundtable discussions have resulted in several successes for COCOPEA and CEAP such as the inclusion of COCOPEA in the Steering Committee of K + 12 and in all its Technical Working Groups, the constituting of a TESDA-COCOPEA Task Force and COCOPEA inputs in draft CMO 42 (see Advocacy and Communications report on p. 6)

Issues of concern that are still being pursued are the proposed ESC guidelines for next school year, the revised Manual of Regulations for Private Schools in Basic Education and the implementation details and legislative support for K + 12.

- CEAP's Ongoing Partnerships

- Renewal of the Go Genuine Program with Microsoft Philippines

CEAP signed a three-year renewal of the Go Genuine licensing program for CEAP member-schools. This took effect on 1 April 2010 and will end on 31 March 2013. Schools are encouraged to avail of this program which results in substantial discounts for CEAP schools. For details please contact the Plans, Programs and Research Unit (PPRU) of the National Secretariat (care of Aric).

- Adobe-CEAP Cumulative Licensing Program (CLP)

For the period July – November 2010, CEAP was enrolled in the Cumulative Licensing Program (CLP) of Adobe which resulted in substantial discounts for CEAP member-schools in the purchase of Adobe products. PPRU is scheduled to renegotiate with Adobe for possibly another six-months.

- RAFI's GREENIN' Philippines Program with CEAP schools

The GREENIN' Philippines Program seeks to develop, protect, enhance, and co-manage denuded forestlands, including bushlands and degraded residual natural forests. It was formed as RAFI's way of contributing to the country's commitment of achieving the seventh goal of the Millennium Development Goals, which is to ensure environmental sustainability by reversing the loss of natural resources. The program goes beyond the usual tree-planting interventions. It involves using native tree seedlings as viable planting materials in all its restoration and rehabilitation efforts.

RAFI will coordinate closely with CEAP in the development of a detailed implementation plan and provide the necessary technical support in the execution of the GREENIN' Philippines Program. RAFI will also facilitate a process that will enjoin all regional members to commit to the implementation of the GREENIN' Philippines Program in their respective areas. The foundation will also facilitate the transfer of program technologies, systems, and capacities to CEAP members. As a partner, CEAP will champion the GREENIN' Philippines program by cascading program purpose, principles, systems, processes, approaches, and interventions to its respective member schools.

Advocacy and Communications

▪ Report from the Advocacy Commission

Fr. Joel E. Tabora, S.J., Chairperson of the CEAP National Advocacy Commission, reported to the CEAP National Board the successes of the commission as of December 2010 during the CEAP National Board Meeting. Highlighted in the report were the key areas of engagement of the Advocacy Commission namely Peace Issues/Mindanao Issues, Key Education Reform, General Education, Tax Issues, Environmental Issues and the Reproductive Health (Bill). The Commission regularly meets during the first Monday of the month.

Peace/Mindanao Issues

Able headed by retired judge and long-time peace advocate, Atty. Dory Cruz-Avizado brings into the group her rich professional and experiential expertise. Through her linkage with other peace advocates her group was able to identify major areas for engagement.

A proposal to draft a revised Law Curriculum to highlight Legal Ethics was made with the help of Atty. Tony Laviña. Another proposal to integrate Human Rights and Peace Education to the general education curriculum was made through the active and pivotal participation of Fr. Joel Tabora, SJ in the CHED Technical Panel for General Education.

Ateneo de Zamboanga University through the scholarship of Prof. Rudy B. Rodil is currently addressing the need to rewrite the history of Mindanao through the project - "Achieving Peace and Justice in Mindanao through the Tri-People Approach: A Huge Challenge". The project is now on its third draft.

On November 23, 2010, the CEAP through the leadership of the Advocacy Commission issued a statement titled "Remembering with Anguish and Pain: A Call for Justice for the Victims of the Maguindanao Massacre". The statement is a reiteration of a previous call to the government to exhaust all available means to ensure that there is no immunity accorded to those responsible for the macabre mass murder. The statement was circulated among member-schools and sent to concerned government agencies, media, partner organizations and advocacy communities.

Key Education Reforms/General Education

The one education house as a policy concern for CEAP has been temporarily set aside to allow the Commission to attend to more urgent concerns. The advocates of this group, however, expressed the need for a short-term solution, which is the creation of a Supra-committee that shall oversee and coordinate the operations of the three education agencies. However, a long-term solution to address the structural flaws in education agencies shall be through legislation. A study of existing education laws and eventual formulation of a rational education code will be undertaken by the group.

Another highlighted concern was the problem created by the conflicts between PRC and CHED, specifically on the qualifications of faculty. Consequently, a draft amendment to Section 11 of the PRC Act of 2000 was written by Atty. Maria Rose Sergio of Ateneo De Naga University, concurred in by the Commission.

The Commission also evaluated the proposed amendments to the EGASTPE Law and found some provisions questionable. A position paper on the matter will be written by CEAP. The Commission is in constant coordination with the Fund for Assistance to Private Education (FAPE) as regards this issue.

Tax Issues

On behalf of CEAP's Advocacy Commission, Atty. Ada Abad drafted an exploratory draft of a comprehensive bill seeking absolute tax exemptions of non-stock, non-profit educational institutions from national and local taxes. The draft was intended to maximize tax exemption for non-stock, non-profit schools and stimulate the technical discussion within the Commission.

After an initial assessment and discussion of this draft in the Commission, the merit of seeking clarification of the constitutional exemption of schools was reiterated. Furthermore, Atty. Cesar Villanueva, Dean of the Ateneo de Manila Law School and Chair of the Committee on Taxation of the Commission, articulated the possibility of seeking tax exemptions from local taxes and regulatory fees by virtue of a legislation. Dean Villanueva volunteered to formulate a bill which will embody the Commission's recommendations. The draft bill will be submitted to the CEAP Board for its consideration.

Reproductive Health Bill

As observed, the RH Bill seems to be moving rather quickly in the legislative process. Apparently, it is one of the priority bills in the House of the Representatives. Fr. Archie Intengan, SJ presented the discussion points on the proposed RH Bill during the CEAP National Board Meeting in December. CEAP shall continue to reiterate its position to remove the questionable provisions in the RH Bill and shall work with groups and associations which share this position.

Alternative Mining Bill (AMB)

Ateneo de Naga University and Ateneo de Zamboanga have been active in the campaign to support the passage of the AMB. Mr. Mario Rodriguez of ADZU currently heads the group and is currently evaluating the AMB and formulating suggested amendments to the AMB.

Member-schools of CEAP are called to undertake an intensive campaign to make their respective communities aware of the ill effects of mining as permitted by the Mining Act of 1995 and the advantages of the AMB. This was especially emphasized as the urgency of the issue is heightened due to a declaration by the DILG that the South Cotabato opposition to open-pit mining by Saggitarius Mines Inc. is illegal.

On Plagiarism

Atty. Laviña, a member of the Advocacy Commission brought to the attention of the Commission, the Supreme Court's decision in the case of Vinuya vs. Executive Secretary, which apparently contains texts lifted from foreign sources without the necessary citation. Subsequently, in an administrative case filed against Associate Justice Del Castillo—the ponente of the Vinuya decision—the Supreme Court enunciated that there was no plagiarism as there was no evidence of "malicious intent"; rather the lack of citation was due to editorial errors. Such disquisition of the Supreme Court on the definition of plagiarism caused alarm to the academic community as it would have an effect on the way plagiarism is to be treated in the academic circles. Prompted by these events, the CEAP published a statement on 9 November 2010 titled "In Defense of Honesty and Integrity". CEAP was also a signatory in a COCOPEA statement on the same issue.

On Magna Carta for Students

The Commission submitted a position paper to the Office of Senator Gregorio Honasan, one of the authors of the Senate Bill on the Magna Carta for Students. The paper elucidated on the various objectionable provisions in the Bill with the corresponding basis and recommendation.

On the draft CMO 42 of CHED

The Commission on Higher Education released a draft memo on the guidelines to be adopted in the formulation of policies, standards and guidelines for the compliance of higher education institutions. The CHED Chair solicited comments on the draft. In response, on 12 October 2010, the CEAP submitted a paper to CHED laying down the suggestions on how the draft policy can be improved. To date, CEAP has not received a response and no new and final CMO on the matter has been released by CHED.

- CEAP Advocacy Commission Website

The CEAP Advocacy Website url is <https://sites.google.com/a/ceap.org.ph/advocacy/home>. The site is an online venue for the CEAP advocacy groups to collaborate and share information, documents, and thoughts and insights. The Commission highlighted the Files section of the site wherein current documents and other information products from and for the different advocacy groups of the Commission. The files are readily accessible and downloadable to all who visit the site.

- CEAP Advocacy Commission to Host Roundtable Discussion with Legislators

The CEAP Advocacy Commission is set to meet with legislators of the 15th Congress from both the House of Representatives and the Senate to discuss issues of common concerns in improving education on 8 February 2011.

From the legislative agenda of the CEAP, as approved by the Board, it is proposed that the following matters be taken up: Legislation necessary for the implementation of K+12; the conflict between the CHED and the PRC in curriculum determination as a result of the PRC Modernization Act; the EGASTPE Law amendment; Tax Legislation in favor of the non-profit schools; and the Alternative Mining Bill.

In his January 4 blog at <http://taborasi.wordpress.com>, Fr. Joel shared that “Should the Breakfast Roundtable Discussion succeed for the long term, a working consensus might be developed through which what is good education legislation and what is bad education legislation, what is helpful and what is not, is developed. Where, for instance, the Department of Education, the Commission on Higher Education, and the Technical Education and Skills Development Authority are to govern issues of curriculum based on set educational goals and appropriate pedagogical strategies, it is not helpful that Congress undermine this authority through laws that determine curriculum. Determining curriculum through law gives it a rigidity that runs counter to curricular and pedagogical strategies that are responsive to current needs.”

CEAP members are encouraged to share their thoughts and ideas as well as other comments for the upcoming Roundtable by emailing advocacy@ceap.org.ph. Results of the Roundtable will be shared via the main CEAP website as well as the Advocacy Commission website.

- Development of MyCEAP, an Online Database and Web Portal System

MyCEAP is an online database and web portal system that connects CEAP to its member schools, and its member schools to the online community. Apart from simplifying and speeding up the association’s annual school information survey process, MyCEAP also strengthens the member schools’ online presence especially for those that are not yet established. A MyCEAP primer is found in the CEAP website.

All schools are urgently enjoined to activate their respective MyCeap accounts. For details please contact the Plans, Programs and Research Unit (PPRU) of the National Secretariat (care of Aric).

Programs and Research

- Bidahan* – CEAP’s National Youth Empowerment Program

Last 27-28 November 2010 at the Assumption-Antipolo campus, CEAP-NCR youth had their Bidahan Youth Camp with the theme, “Earth-Keeper, Ethical Leader”.

Now on in third year, the “Bida: Be the Change” Youth Camp seeks to provide a venue for the Filipino youth from the different sectors around the country to come together and combat the indifference and pessimism that infects many of the youth, especially when asked to contribute to nation-building. The camp aims to inspire the youth (ang mga Bida – mga kabataang may Bagong Isip, Diwa at Asal) and equip them with the knowledge and confidence to lead their fellow youth towards helping and building the nation. Furthermore, it seeks to prod them to proceed to concrete action for positive change as they go back to their schools and communities of origin.

Resource speakers for the camp are Mr. Rafael C. Lopa, President and Executive Director of the Ninoy and Cory Aquino Foundation, Mr. Lawrence Tan, CEO of the Worldwide Fund for Nature Philippines and Fr. Albert Alejo, S.J., Ehem! Convenor. A Youth Night and Advocacy Fair highlight the camp with Paolo Santos, Peryodiko and other student acts performing on stage. In between performances, different development groups have been invited to encourage the new bidas to volunteer for their causes. These are the Dynamic Teen Company, HapagAsa Integrated Nutrition Program, Ka Rene Penas Fund, Missionaries of the Poor, Museo Pambata, One Core Success Center, One Tama, PinoyME Foundation, Sagip Pasig Movement, Sparks for Change, World Vision, Worldwide Fund for Nature Philippines and the Department of Social Welfare and Development.

Other regions who have expressed their intentions to hold their Bidahan Youth Camps are Regions 1, 4, 6 and 9.

Resource Generation

- FAPE Support for Bidahan and 2010 CEAP National Convention

FAPE continues to be a valued partner of CEAP as it helped fund the 2010 CEAP National Convention and the Bidahan regional runs for this school year. Still being finalized are partnerships with Knowledge Channel Foundation, Inc., Phinma Foundation, Ninoy and Cory Aquino Foundation and other partners and possible funding agencies.

Other Matters

- ECCCE-PhilCare Contribution of CEAP member-schools
